The Skeeter.

The skeeter is a bird of prey Which flies about at night About three-eighths of it is beak And five-eighths appetite, And fifteen-eighths or so is buzz And nineteen eights is bite.

caught are left under water story, admitting that many submarines have been destroyed.

MORE THAN A MILLION

Lamp Chimneys to be Furnished Bristol Government By Trigg County Concern.

Cadiz, Ky., Aug. 27.—Jerre M.
Porter, of Clinton, manager of the Porter Pottery Company, of that city, recently closed a deal with the British Government for 16,000 cases of lamp chimneys. This order embraces about 1,152,000 chimneys, and they have until January 1, 1916, to complete the order. It will take 40 cars to deliver the chimneys to New York City, where the British Gov-responsibility. Mr. Porter is the son-in-law of Tandy Wadlington, of this county.

A. M. Casey Coming Oct. 1.

DEPLORABLE ACCIDENT

Nine-Year-Old Son of Tandy Mason Accidentally Shot.

AND WOUNDED BY FATHER Conditions Critical But Somewhat Improved Yesterday.

Charles Mason, the nine-year-old son of Mr. Tandy B. Mason, of South Christian, who was accidentally shot Wednesday night, was in an improved condition yesterday and there is hope for his recovery, although his wound is still considered serious.

The child was shot in a distressing accident. His father was cleaning a 22-calibre automatic pistol, which he believed to be unloaded. In snapping the pistol a cartridge that was in the chamber went off. The little boy ran in front of Mr. Mason just as the accident occurred the bullet struck him near the nose just under his left eye. It is not known exactly what course the bullet took as the attending physicians were afraid to probe for the bullet.

The family, and especially the father, are crushed with grief. The little boy is a grandson of Mr. W.
C. West, of this city.

FOUR TIMES IN ASYLUM

Finally Tried For Manslaughter
And Given Three Years In Pen.

Charles D. Fulkerson, of Ohio county, recently discharged from the Western State Hospital here, was convicted of manslaughter at Hartford, Ky., this week and his punishment was fixed at three years in the penitentiary. Fulkerson was charged with the killing of Wesley Smith on April 14, 1909. After the killing Fulkerson left the county, and did not return for several months. On his return he was tried for lunacy and sent to the asylum. He was discharged from the asylum and returned to Hartford, only to be returned to the hospital here. A third time he was discharged and a third time he was returned to the institution. When discharged a fourth time Fulkerson returned to Ohio county, and it is said that he became troublesome and a neighbor swore out a warrant for him on the charge of killing Smith. Fulkerson pleaded insanity, but the jury returned a verdict finding him guilty.

the attack was made on Monday, on the Asiatic suburbs of Constantinople.
A number of bombs were dropped, throwing the people into a panic.
Thirty Turks, eight Greeks and three Armenians were killed or wounded.

M'LEAN TO BE USED

Free of Rent For Grammar Grades of Clay Street School.

OPTION FOR ITS PURCHASE
Depending On The Voting of a New $100,000 Bond Issue.

The Hopkinsville Public School Board has obtained from the Transylvania University, which owns the McLean College property, an option to purchase the College property on or before Jan. 15, 1916, for $30,000, $22,500 in cash and the ground upon which the Clay Street school building now stands, which is valued at $7,500 with the building removed.
The school lot is a full square, containing something more than an acre, which lies on the west side of the L. & N. Railroad between Fourth and Fifth Streets.

The Council has given first passage to a new bond issue of $100,000, $20,000 of which it is expected would be used to pay for the College property. There are now $65,000 of High School bonds issued against the white taxpayers and it is proposed to lift this debt from the school property and place it upon the general funds of the city, taxing the colored people for the maintenance of the white schools. The special school charter of 1879, under which the bonds were issued in 1910 and 1911, provides for bonding only the property of the white taxpayers.

The building that is to be demolished was erected in 1880 and the first cost was $12,500, and additions made it about $15,000. The building could not be built now for less than $20,000. It is not expected to realize more than a few thousand dollars in second-hand building materials, so that the proposed destruction of the building will entail a loss to the white taxpayers of the city of $15,000 or more, while lot also is believed to be worth much more than $7,500.

The college property upon which the option is held is the part not sold last year, fronting Ninth and Belmont streets and containing the main building and the girls' dormitory.

The option carries with it free rent until Jan. 15, 1916, and the school property is being moved to the college building and school will be opened there Monday.

The College property is worth the price charged, but to that price must be added the amount lost on the Clay street property to arrive at its true cost to the city. The Clay street building is a substantial building and could be used to good advantage to meet the future needs of the city for a school hospital, or some other such purpose. It is too good a building to be sacrificed at such a loss.

SUNK MANY SUBMARINES

First Announcement Made By British Admiralty of Navy Movements.

RUSSIANS AT BREST-LIVOSK French Air Craft Makes a Very Important Raid on Germany.

London, Aug. 27.—The Austro-Germans yesterday marched into Brest-Livsk, center of the Bug river line of defenses and main concentration center. The Russians put up a desperate resistance to the German advance, but made no attempt to defend the fortress itself, evacuating it as they did Ossowetz.

Petrograd dispatches had indicated the Russians were planning to take up defensive positions farther east.

Air crafts again have broken the monotony of the western warfare.
Sixty-two French Aeroplanes flew over the Delligen Iron Works, near Saarlouis, Rhenish Paris, dropping 150 bombs, while a British aviator is reported to have dropped a bomb on and destroyed a German submarine off Ostend. The German report says that four of the French machines in the attack near Saarlouis were brought down, one however, falling behind the French lines.

The admiralty report of the German submarines' sinking significantly stated that it has not been the practice of the admiralty to publish accounts regarding the losses of German submarines, "important though they have been," in cases where the Germans had no other source of information as to the time and place at which these losses occurred. It has been reported for months that a large number of German submarines, variously stated at from twenty to forty, have been caught by the British navy, but today's statement is the only official admission that there were others than those previously announced by the admiralty as having been destroyed.

The Italians claim further minor successes on all their fronts, but these are denied by Austria. Of the operations on the Gallipoli peninsula there is no further news.

MR. STOWE'S PUBLIC SALE

Will Take Place Wednesday, Sept. 1, Instead of Tuesday, Aug. 31.

In the notice of Mr. R. T. Stowe's sale, appearing on the seventh page of today's Kentuckian, the date is given as Tuesday, August 31. This should be Wednesday, September 1, as the sale will take place on that day.

Editor Underwood Laid Up.

Mr. Thos. C. Underwood, editor of the New Era, has been laid up for several days with a very sore right arm, that has been troubling him for a month or more. It is not known whether he hurt it playing tennis or is suffering from rheumatism. The pain became so acute the first of the week that he was compelled to quit work and take a course of treatment.

Father and Son.

The new Election Commissioners for Christian county are David Smith, Democrat, and O. A. Anderson, Republican, Sheriff Jewell Smith will be the third member of the board. David Smith is father of the Sheriff.

DIXIE BEE-LINE HIGHWAY.

Are you interested in the Dixie Bee-Line Highway being routed through Christian county? If so, it is time for the people of Christian county to bestir themselves. Do you know that in Muhlenburg and Logan counties the citizens are thoroughly aroused and enthusiastic in preparing a broad highway, connecting at Madisonville in Hopkins county, and in making this preparation they have opened a highway 50 feet wide. Have set the fences back, cleaned out the underbrush, and have rolled and graded same under the supervision of the Government Engineer, Mr.
Whittaker.

Now all this work has been done by the farmers and citizens adjacent to the proposed highway for the purpose of showing the Dixie Bee-Line Commissioners of View that they are anxious for the route to be designated from Madisonville through Greenville to Russellville, and joining there the Dixie Highway.

They propose to convince the Commissioners that it is 20 to 30 miles nearer from Evansville to the Dixie Highway by this route, and show further that their roadway is of sufficient width to take care of the proposed Dixie Bee-Line Highway from the Lakes to the Gulf.

The County Courts of each of these counties have made appropriations, pledging each county to construct a standard pike up to specifications for a highway.

Now what does Christian county propose to do about it? Are we to remain indifferent, and risk the 19 Commissioners, who will view our roads about the 15th and 16th of September, to gratuitously designate the Dixie Bee-Line Highway through Christian county without any effort on our part, or without our citizens along the proposed route setting back their fences, and showing that we have a roadway of sufficient width to be inviting as a National Highway.

As a matter of fact there are numerous places from the Hopkins county line to the Tennessee line where the present roadway is not one-half the proper width. There are numerous places where the citizens by united effort, with a few days work of the plow and split log drag, could change the width and appearance of our roadway to be inviting to the Commissioners, and possibly be the means of securing this route.

Are the farmers and citizens living along the proposed route through Christian county willing to do this?
If so, the time is very limited, and we should get busy at once. Each of you call up your neighbor and ask him to join in with you, and let's set a day, and call on the citizens in Crofton, Kelly, Hopkinsville, Casky, Pembroke and Trenton, also the citizens living along the Clarksville pike, to join in with us and do as other counties have done. Show to the Commissioners by our enthusiasm and work that we are determined to make all preparations and comply with all conditions that may be necessary for the Dixie Bee-Line Highway to be routed through Christian county.

Just a moment, do you realize that in the construction of a National Highway from the Lakes to the Gulf that the promoters of the Dixie Bee-Line Highway expect within a short time to secure Federal aid, and to have congress designate this route as a National Highway, and to some day in the near future see a national boulevard constructed along this route from the Lakes to the Gulf.

Following these suggestions Judge Knight and President R. E. Cooper, have united in a call for a Mass meeting at the Court House next Monday at 10 o'clock a. m., for all parties interested in the proposed lines of the Dixie Bee Line leading to Hopkinsville and out of Hopkinsville by both the Guthrie and Clarksville routes.

If the price of cotton continues to to stop "spooning" in the parks. He says there can be no real love making without spooning and it might just as well be done in the park as in a darkened parlor with the curtains drawn.A French report estimates the war casualties as follows: Killed, 5,089,- 000; wounded, 6,740,000; prisoners, 2,930,000; hors de combat, 14,693,- 000. The figures distributed the number of killed as follows: French, 460,009; English, 180,000; Russians, 1,250,000; Germans, 1,163,000; Austrians, 1,610,000; Turks, 110,000; Belgians, 49,000.An Amsterdam report says Karl Helfferich, Secretary of the Treasury, explained to the Reichstag that the new German war loan would completely exhaust the Empire's financial resources and that the increase in exchequer bonds would cause bankruptcy. Therefore, it was needful to prepare for an honorable peace. Chancellor von Bethman-Hollweg, according to the same report, declared that the difficulties of the Empire were increasing. Dr. Barnhard Dernburg's report of the failure of his mission in the United States and other neutral countries made a strong impression on the conference. Lieut. Gen. von Moltke, former chief of the general staff, declared that he fully agreed with the Chancellor and added that only those not fully informed on the situation could hope for the possibility of complete Russian defeat.Reorganization of the staffs of the Courier-Journal and Times has been unofficially announced. The changes are expected to take effect about September 20. Arthur Krock, who has been Washington correspondent of the two papers, is to be the managing editor of both, which are to be served by one staff practically, the reporters working in shifts and merging their work as far as possible. James R. Kellar is to be city editor of both papers. Robert W.

Brown, who has been managing editor of the Times for many years, was offered the post of Washington correspondent, but it is understood he will not accept. Harrison Robertson, who has been managing editor of the Courier-Journal, is expected to remain as associate editor.
David Morton is tipped as Washington correspondent for both. Several other changes will be made in the working forces and it is said that

RELICS OF ROMAN CONQUEST

Systematic Excavations at London Have Proved Intensely Interesting to Archeologists.Excavations have been carried out in the crypt of Bow church, Cheapside, London, by the British Archeological society with the object of discovering any Roman remains. A hole was dug in the center portion of the crypt near the east wall and was carried down to a considerable depth.
At the bottom of this excavation two rows of Roman boarding were discovered running towards the southwest. One set of boarding had two pointed piles at the back. These were probably supporting the banks of a small stream. Similar woodwork has been found in other parts of the city. The two piles and one of the boards, all in a fair state of preservation, were taken out, and are now lying in the crypt. Various pieces of Roman brick and roofing tiles, fragments of medieval pottery, four small pieces of Samian red pottery of the first century, as well as bones of oxen and other animals, and human bones, some of which appeared to date back to the Roman period, were discovered. The excavations showed that two continuous masonry foundations from four to seven feet wide exist east to west beneath the column of the center crypt.
The Roman remains and timber have been offered to the city corporation for preservation in the Guildhall museum.

WEAR WHITE AND KEEP COOL

Experiments Have Proved That It Is the Best Material for Hot-Weather Garments.In an attempt to illustrate graphically the relative values for summer wear of different colors in dress materials, an interesting experiment was recently conducted. Four strips of cloth, made of the same material and weight, but of different colors, were placed on a cake of ice and exposed to the sun. The fabrics were white, yellow, red and black. The result showed in a striking way how white reflects the sun's rays while black absorbs them.The ice covered by the piece of white cloth was not melted to any appreciable degree during the test; that under the yellow strip was slightly depressed; a deep cut was formed beneath the red cloth, and a groove approximately twice as deep as that covered by the latter was melted under the black fabric.

WHITE-WASHED CURBSTONES

Since the exigencies of war have made it necessary largely to eliminate street lighting in British cities, it has been found advisable in certain instances to whitewash the curbs on either side of public thoroughfares so as to make it easier to discern the roadways at night.At Norwich a pneumatic painting machine carried on a steam wagon has been successfully employed for doing this work. The lime solution is forced through a hose under air pressure and directed at the curb. A nozzle especially designed so as to prevent the spreading of the wash beyond certain limits is used. With this equipment the work can be done at a rate of about three miles an hour.

IMPROVING INFLUENCE.

"Do you think moving pictures ought to be censored?"
"I should say not," replied Broncho Bob. "It 'ud add a heap to the peace an' quiet of Crimson Gulch if our citizens could be persuaded to sit quiet, lookin' at scenes of violence, instead o' gettin' out an' shootin' up the place on their own account."

TIME SAVING.

"An Indian very seldom laughs," said the western man.
"Well, I'm not sure he isn't right," replied the busy citizen. "When an Indian is in a hurry, everybody knows there is absolutely no use in stopping him to tell a funny story."

ON THE ROAD.

"I wonder if we can get a bite at the house yonder?"
"I know we can. I hear the dog now."

this place, says: "I was so weak, I could hardly walk. I tried Cardui, and was greatly relieved. It is a splendid tonic. I have recommended Cardui to many friends, who tried it with good results." Testimony like this comes unsolicited, from thousands of earnest women, who have been benefitted by the timely use of that successful tonic medicine, Car-dual. Purely vegetable, mild, but reliable, Cardui well merits its high place in the esteem of those who have tried it. It relieves woman's pains, and strengthens weak women.
It is certainly worth a trial. Your

KNEW "DADDY'S" VISITING DAY

Soldier Wounded in France Awoke to Consciousness in Hospital Near His Father.Here is a strange coincidence arising out of the war.A young British soldier was severely wounded in the fighting somewhere in France. He lost consciousness, and when he regained it he was lying comfortably in a bed in a ward of a large hospital. His first words were: "Where am I?"The nurse told him that he was in London, that during the period of his unconsciousness he had been transported across the channel, and that his wounds had been tended. He asked the name of the hospital, the number of the ward, the day of the week and the hour. The nurse told him. "I say, nurse, you might tell my dad I am here." The nurse looked at him, thinking the poor lad was in a delirium. "All right, nurse, my dad's in the next ward now. You know he is the surgeon there, and this is his visiting day." And so it was.The father was in the next ward performing his work, thinking all the time that his son was in France.
He did not even know that the boy was wounded, far less that he was being tended a few yards away.

GAS NOT UNSANITARY.

The idea which prevails generally that electricity as an illuminant is superior to gas for sanitary reasons seems to have been disproved to a great degree by the experiments conducted by Dr. K. Ahlborn, a German scientist, at the Hygienic institute of the University of Munich. In a room of 57 cubic meters' capacity with artificial ventilation the number of bacteria in a unit volume of air decreased 24 per cent in one hour. Under similar conditions, but with three large gas flames burning, the number decreased 40 per cent in the same period.

PLEASED AND DISPLEASED.

"You seem to view your son with mixed emotions," said the visitor to the father of a young collegian at home for his vacation."That's quite true," answered the father. "My admiration for the young rascal's superb physique, acquired on the football field, is tempered by the kind of clothes he wears."

PLEASED EITHER WAY.

"Do you find the life of a commuter pleasant?""Yes. If you catch your train you feel relieved, and if you miss it you get a chance to rest awhile longer."

THE RESULT.

"I wonder what men have wash sales for?""I guess it is because most of them get cleaned out."

NO SOOTHING INFLUENCE.

nerves, is it not?""Not at my house. It keeps everybody dancing till midnight."

MILK MUST BE PURE

IMPOSSIBLE TO GIVE TOO MUCH CARE TO BABY'S FOOD.

"Artificial" Feeding Means Constant Watchfulness if the Health of the Little One is to Be Properly Preserved.

(Prepared for This Paper by the Children's Bureau, U. S. Department of Labor.)

When, for any reason, the baby cannot have breast milk, he must be fed on a bottle. This method of feeding is known as "artificial" feeding, because it is an imitation of the natural way.

Since it was not nature's intention that a baby should be fed on cow's milk, the baby finds it very hard often times to adapt his digestive organs to the strange food, and consequently many thousands of babies, who would have lived and thrived on breast milk, die every year because they are unable thus to adapt themselves.

On the baby's account, first of all, every mother will do all in her power to secure breast milk, but on her own account, there are many reasons why she should choose to do this.

Artificial feeding requires the constant attention of some one person and necessitates daily, painstaking work, which can be left undone only at the risk of the baby's health.

The mother must first of all study her milk supply. Then after clean, fresh milk has been obtained it must have the most careful attention, and bottles, nipples, and all the utensils employed in making up the feedings must be scrubbed and sterilized every day.

In addition, the baby must be constantly watched to see how his food is suiting him. His weight, the condition of his skin and of his bowels must be noted, and the strength and quantity of his food increased or decreased in accordance with these conditions.

A simple rule for feeding the average healthy baby after the first month is to give him 1½ ounces of milk in 24 hours, for every pound of weight. Thus, a ten-pound baby will need 15 ounces of milk in 24 hours, diluted with water and sweetened according to his age.

On the first two days of his life the artificially fed baby should have nothing to eat except a little slightly warm water, to which a very little sugar may be added.

The following directions for feeding the baby have been prepared by a committee of the American Medical Association.

"Beginning on the third day, the average baby should be given three ounces of milk daily, diluted with seven ounces of water. To this should be added one tablespoonful of lime-water and two level teaspoonfuls of sugar. This should be given in seven feedings.

"At one week the average child requires five ounces of milk daily, which should be diluted with ten ounces of water. To this should be added one and one-half even tablespoonfuls of sugar and one ounce of lime-water. This should be given in seven feedings. The milk should be increased by one-half ounce about every four days. The water should be increased by one-half ounce every eight days.

"At three months the average child requires 16 ounces of milk daily, which should be diluted with 16 ounces of water. To this should be added three tablespoonfuls of sugar and two ounces of lime-water. This should be given in six feedings. The milk should be increased by one-half ounce every six days. The water should be reduced by one-half ounce about every two weeks.

"At six months the average child requires 24 ounces of milk daily, which should be diluted with 12 ounces of water. To this should be added two ounces of lime-water and three even tablespoonfuls of sugar. This should be given in five feedings. This amount of milk should be increased by one-half ounce every week. The milk should be increased only if the child is hungry and digesting his food well.

"At nine months the average child requires 30 ounces of milk daily, which should be diluted with ten ounces of water. To this should be added two even tablespoonfuls of sugar and two ounces of lime-water. This should be given in five feedings. The sugar added may be milk sugar or if this cannot be obtained cane (granulated) sugar or maltose (malt sugar). At first plain water should be used to dilute the milk.

"At three months, sometimes earlier, a weak barley water may be used in the place of plain water; it is made of one-half level tablespoonful of barley flour to 16 ounces of water and cooked for 20 minutes.

"At six months the barley flour may be increased to one and one-half even tablespoonfuls cooked in the 12 ounces of water.

"At nine months the barley flour may be increased to three level tablespoonfuls cooked in the eight ounces of water."

In the hottest weather the baby's food should be weakened by pouring out one-quarter of the usual contents of the bottle and adding an equal amount of boiled water.

He should be fed with absolute regularity, once in every three hours, for the first five months of his life, and the interval should be gradually lengthened until at six months it is four hours.

Give the baby plenty of cool drinking water between meals, especially in hot weather.

FOR GOOD ROADS TO-DAY

Caldwell County Is Becoming Fully Aroused on The Subject.

To-day at Princeton a public meeting will be held at the court house at 2:30 to discuss the plans for better roads in the locality of Princeton. C. O. Wright, of the committee in charge of the good roads rally, was in the city Thursday and represented the committee, asked Col. W. R. Howell and Judge W. T. Fowler to be present and address the convention.

The rally in Princeton is expected to be one of the biggest that has yet been held. The business men have agreed to close their stores and a band will furnish music for the occasion.

Preacher Assassinated.

Gary, Ind., Aug. 26.—Federal and state authorities are endeavoring to establish a motive for the murder of Rev. Edmund Kayser, pastor of St. James Evangelical Lutheran church of Tolleston, Ind., a suburb of Gary who was shot and killed in his home Tuesday by persons who bound his body with a cord and left it in a nearby lot. One theory is that the pastor's end was the culmination of a series of anonymous letters warning him to cease alleged attentions to a married woman in Gary.

OUTLOOK FOR FULL SCHOOL

Many Have Matriculated In Advance At The High School.

After a happy vacation, the school children will strap their books together and enter into their school duties again Monday. The teachers have been at different schools on Thursday and Friday morning and most of the pupils have already enrolled. A large number of county boys and girls have made arrangements to take board and lodging with private families in the city while they attend school here.

Judging from the number who have already enrolled the number of pupils will be greatly increased over last year's attendance.

At the high school, members of the board of trustees and the new teachers will make talks to the students.

SOME PICKUPS FROM THE DIAMOND.

The old-timers got the baseball spirit in their bones last Tuesday and tried to come back again yesterday against the Western State Hospital team. Dr. Bassett says all they need is practice and they can beat any team in this locality.

The Madisonville Sensibles played yesterday against the Evansville pennant winners of the Central League. Boss Stone sent Hancock to the mound in one game and Ollie McArthur, the former Hoptown star, who has been playing a swell ball in a fast company did the box work in the other. The game was widely advertised as McArthur Day.

Lafayette and Big Rock will play again Saturday at Lafayette and several Co. D. sluggers will appear in the Lafayette line-up.

Saturday the Co. D. team will probably play the Little River club. The game was scheduled for last Saturday but the rain interfered. Cook Edwards will be on the mound for the Little river bunch.

MOTHER OF SCHOOL GIRL

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Daughter's Health.

Plover, Iowa.—"From a small child my 13 year old daughter had female weakness. I spoke to three doctors about it and they did not help her any. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had been of great benefit to me, so I decided to have her give it a trial. She has taken five bottles of the Vegetable Compound according to directions on the bottle and she is cured of this trouble. She was all run down when she started taking the Compound and her periods did not come right. She was so poorly and weak that I often had to help her dress herself, but now she is regular and is growing strong and healthy."—Mrs. MARTIN HELVIG, Plover, Iowa.

Hundreds of such letters expressing gratitude for the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has accomplished are constantly being received, proving the reliability of this grand old remedy.

If you are ill do not drag along and continue to suffer day in and day out but at once take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a woman's remedy for woman's ills.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Seven Miles of Highway Constructed by Enthusiastic Workers--Stores Closed.

Madisonville, Ky., August 26.—Between three and four hundred men, with traction engines, road graders and scrapers, made seven miles of good road from Earlington to Nortonville, in this county, Wednesday. Business men, farmers, miners and others took part in the construction, which was done at the suggestion of the Hopkins County Dixie Bee-Line association. County Road Engineer I. B. Earle and Street Commissioner Flannigan of this city had charge of the work. The entire day was spent on the road and tonight it is one of the best roads in the county. The big steam roller, used on the streets here, was also used. Dinner was served the men by the ladies of Earlington, Barnsley, Morton's Gap and Nortonville, and most of the stores in these towns, were closed during the day. Several Madisonville citizens took part. The road is a part of the route through this county of the proposed Dixie Bee-Line. Other sections of the road will be worked next week.

Trigg County Roads.

The Trigg County Good Roads Association has arranged for two free road working days in the county on Sept. 8 and 9. Two roads extending across the county were selected for the day's work. One extends from Julien to Canton and the other from Cerulean Springs to Lafayette, with a mileage of 60 miles.

The Eastman Kodak Co. is declared to be a trust by a Buffalo judge, but its answer will of course be in the negative.

Majority Reduced.

The official count of the vote cast at the recent primary in the race for commonwealth's attorney reduces considerably the majority first reported for Mr. Smith. He carried each of the counties, but by small majorities for the most part. The official figures show the following Smith majorities: Calloway, 165, Lyon, 131, Trigg, 611, Christian, 307.

Mr. Allensworth expresses himself as well satisfied with the showing he made in the contest, in the face of the alleged combinations that were formed on the eve of the primary, by which friends of his supported his opponent along with a number of candidates for state officers who were in the combination.

Running on irely upon his own merits, and without campaign funds or campaign organization or manager, Mr. Allensworth made a truly remarkable race—one which few in the county could have made. Though disappointed at the turn of affairs took at the last moment, turning in to defeat what looked mightily like victory, like the true Democrat that he is, he thanks his friends for their support and asks that they support his successful opponent. He has exchanged letters with Mr. Smith, and whatever bitterness the campaign may have engendered has been washed away, and there will be no more able and tireless supporter of the Democratic ticket in the final struggle than Jas. B. Allensworth.—Pembroke Journal.

Mountain of Flesh.

Fourteen men staggered under the largest and heaviest funeral casket ever constructed in Philadelphia when they bore the 500-pound body of Frank Griess up the steps of a church.

The coffin was of solid mahogany and the inside measurements were 32 inches wide, 35 inches high and 6 feet 6 inches long, while the weight was 300 pounds.

Griess succumbed to heart disease last Wednesday. He was 51 years old. He is survived by a widow and three children.

Watermelons Scarce.

Watermelons have been very scarce this year, and during the past few days the city has experienced a famine in this delicacy. Hotels and housewives report that there are very few to be had. This condition is attributed to the fact that the season for the Southern melons is over and the local crop is very poor. Owing to the continued rains this year, the crop was very short, and what few melons are being received in the city are said to be of very poor quality.

KENTUCKY COMPANY REINSURES
THE FLORIDA LIFE BUSINESS

The Inter-Southern Life Insurance Company of Louisville, Kentucky, Takes Over the Florida Life Insurance Company of Jacksonville, and Reinsures Its Business

The Inter-Southern Life Insurance Company has closed a contract by which it reinsures the outstanding business of the Florida Life Insurance Company, the latter Company having about Six Millions of Insurance in force and approximately a Million Dollars of assets admitted and non-admitted.

The contract of reinsurance was closed at Jacksonville by President James R. Duffin and Vice President W. W. Moore, following a visit of nearly a week at the Company's home office in Louisville by J. C. Luning, Treasurer and Insurance Commissioner of the State of Florida, who selected the Inter-Southern as the proper Company to reinsure that business.

By this reinsurance another important step is taken in strengthening the insurance situation in the South and conserving the interests of policyholders.

By this process of expansion and conservation certain great and strong life insurance companies have been developed in the United States into institutions of national importance.

The Inter-Southern has practically completed successful negotiations for the business of another Southern Company, with over Ten Millions of Insurance in force and corresponding assets. The Inter-Southern's success in this field and the fair treatment accorded to the Companies reinsured inspire the belief that it has become the magnet to which will be drawn many companies whose best interests can be promoted by casting their lot in with a stronger company and save overhead and operation expenses.

The Inter-Southern is now doing business in eight States and will open new territory after the first of the year. Capable men who have chosen life insurance as a profession can find what they are looking for with this rapidly developing Company.—Adv.

Here's The Best CONTEST OF ALL

EVERY CONTESTANT A WINNER AND NOBODY CAN LOSE

Trip To Mammoth Cave Will Not Cost A Cent

The Kentuckian has put on a subscription campaign which began July 19, which every contestant will be a prize winner, in which the contestants can work together and help each other and all unite in a common purpose. The plan is a simple one and the proposition is that every lady or girl who secures a club of 20 subscribers to the Kentuckian at $2 for a year's subscription, or a larger number of shorter term ones to make $40, will be given a FREE TRIP to MAMMOTH CAVE, all expenses paid, occupying two days.

Trips to the Cave are always fascinating, especially to the young, and everybody desires at some time to see this greatest of all caverns, the one thing above all else that makes Kentucky a mecca for tourists the world over. Even those who have seen the Cave before find something attractive in visits again and again. The Cave is so vast, its wonders so great and its attractions so numerous that one never tires of inspecting its miles and miles of underground passages.

There is not a neighborhood in Christian or adjoining counties in which some young lady cannot in one day secure 20 subscribers who will pay for a year's subscription to the Kentuckian and the deed is done, and this wonder of the world may be visited without its costing her one cent. The rules of the contest will be easily understood and capable of no understanding.

Subscriptions May Be Sent In at Any Time From Now Until September 15.

They may be for a year or fractional parts of a year to make up $40 in each club. They may be for one year or more than one, not to exceed 5 years to any one subscriber.

Voluntary renewals in the office cannot be credited to clubs. The young ladies may secure rewards but must bring or send subscriptions in themselves.

Should any girl fail to collect a full club, she may transfer her strength to some friend, or by paying the amount necessary to complete the cost of the trip in cash, she may go on the same basis as the others.

The Contest Began Monday, July 19th And Will Close September 15th.

There will be no restrictions or limitations as to the territory. Get subscribers anywhere in or out of the county.

Only such payments on subscriptions as are made on or after July 19 will be included in clubs.

The contest will be conducted by the Business Manager of The Kentuckian and the names of those who desire to enter the contest for the trips offered will be given every possible assistance in getting up clubs.

In former contests many girls who did effective work in securing subscribers failed to secure awards, because others got more subscribers. This time every dollar collected represents a fixed value and every girl who gets up a club will be sure of the trip. The more the merrier. We would like to take 100 girls on this great outing.

WHO WILL BE THE FIRST?

LIFE IN SERBIAN MACEDONIA

Result of Blighting Rule of the Turks Is Shown by Miserable State of the Country.

There is a great difference between Serbia proper and the Macedonian provinces which she has recently acquired down south, George Macaulay Trevelyan writes in the North American Review.

Serbian Macedonia contains many races. European and Asiatic, and is still rotten with all the vices of a country but just released from Turkish rule. The inhabitants dwell in gigantic villages of 5,000 or 10,000 people each, whence they ride out every morning to till the distant fields. In this their custom resembles that of many of the Sicilians and South Italians. Indeed, the bare limestone mountains and backward civilization of Macedonia are curiously like some parts of South Italy or Sicily.

But the change from South Italy to North Italy is not greater than the change from Serbian Macedonia to northern Serbia. In northern Serbia, which has been free of the Turks for a hundred years and where the entire population is Serbian, you have a landscape of gentle, undulating, fertile hills, cut up into fields by hedges after the English pattern. It is much more like the typical scenery of the Balkans or Mediterranean. The white-walled, red-roofed farm houses are scattered widely about this pleasant countryside, for there is no need for the inhabitants to draw together for safety at nightfall. It is this country, the richest in Serbia, that the Austrian troops sacked so ruthlessly during their invasion.

BOTH WISE

Cholly—I suppose you write your husband long letters telling him how lonesome you are without him?

She—Yes; but he writes me the same fibs, too.

SIGHTS AIRSHIPS FROM AFAR.

The familiar story of the geese which once saved a beleaguered city is rivaled by the services of a very sagacious parrot in the present war. A scientist, writing for the Frankfurter Zeitung, says: "We reside in Freiburg, Braisgau, on the western part of the Loretto mountains. We had a parrot named Lora, who had her stand on a western terrace of our house and made known the approach of every aviator with a special cry long before he was observable to the human eye. The parrot restlessly moved about, spread her wings, fixedly looked above and uttered cries such as we had never heard before. The children then excitedly came to us and said, 'Lora sees an aviator!' We brought a spyglass and, following the frightened eyes of Lora, observed an airship. Even now, when the parrot is in the house, she looks through the window and reports to us the aviators long before the guns of the fortress of Neubreisach announce their coming."

PROMPT ATTENTION.

"I can't wait a second. Can you give me a light fruit lunch at once?" "Certainly, sir. I'll turn on the electric currents."

MEAN SUGGESTION.

"I can't think of any way of killing time." "Why, I often hear you playing on the piano."

APPROPRIATE.

"When accused, Jicks was the picture of despair." "That was because he knew he had been framed up."

QUALITY.

Norah—Faith, an' I never dreamed that was your mistress. Bridget—Begorra, an' she's grand. She seems more like an equal.—Life.

WAR! What Is It All About?

HAS the whole world gone stark mad over a very foolish and trivial question? Are swords rattling, cannon rumbling, mailed armour clashing just because Russia wanted to show her love for the little brother—Serbia?

Tear aside the curtain of Europe's politics and see the grim and sinister game of chess that is being played. See upon what a slim, yet desperate, excuse the sacred lives of millions may be sacrificed. Read the history of the past one hundred years, as written by one of the greatest authorities the world has ever known, and learn the naked, shameful truth. Just to get you started as a Review of Reviews subscriber, we make you this extraordinary offer. We will give to you

Duruy's History of the World

Four splendid cloth volumes, full of portraits, sketches, maps, diagrams

Today is the climax of a hundred years of preparation. Read in this timely, authoritative, complete, AND THE ONLY CONDENSED classic world history—of which over 2,000,000 copies have been sold in France alone—just what has taken place in the inner councils of Europe during the past one hundred years. Read in these entrancing pages how Russia has for years craftily been trying to escape from her darkness—to get a year-round open port, with its economic freedom.

Read how Germany and Austria, fearful of the monster's latent strength, have been trying to checkmate her and how they have pinned all in this last, supreme stake.

The Lesson of the Past

THIS master of the pen shows you the glory that was Greece's and the grandeur that was Rome's. He guides you through the Middle Ages, the picturesque old days of feudalism and the crusades; through the Renaissance up to contemporary history, which Prof. Grosvener completes in brilliant manner. In the story of the past lie the secrets of today. And you will understand them better when you get the Review of Reviews for a year—the Review of Reviews will give you a true interpretation of the events that are taking place with such rapidity. It is not enough to read the daily news reports. Your ability to comprehend conditions, and to discuss them intelligently depends on a true interpretation of the meaning and the "season why" of events. In your mind you must bring order out of chaos—and the Review of Reviews will do it for you.

DRY AND WET COMPARTMENTS

Moisture in Incubator Tends to Increase Hatch of Eggs—Also Adds to Weight of Chick.

A test made in April, 1914, by the New Jersey experiment station to determine the efficiency of a 300-egg capacity incubator gave a percentage of hatch of fertile eggs of 77.4 and a percentage in July of 85. Comparing compartments run dry with those run wet it was observed that the latter gave a much higher percentage of hatch as well as an increase in the weight of the chicks, the average weight for the dry being 1.2 ounces, and for the wet 1.25 ounces.

Four brooders of 100 week-old chicks each were fed for nine weeks, two lots receiving a regular chick ration and two other lots receiving in addition all the sour milk they would consume.

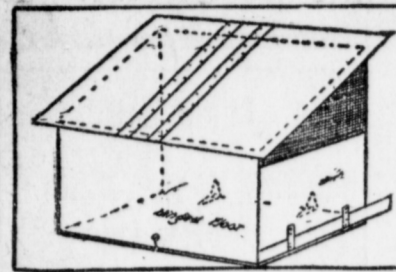

The first two brooders made a total gain of 48.62 pounds and 42.35 pounds and the mortality was seventy-one and seventy-three respectively, while the last two brooders made a total gain of 52.22 and 81.94 pounds and the mortality was twenty-eight and twenty-eight, respectively. It was found to require 3.6 quarts of skim milk to produce a pound of body weight.

It is stated that the skim-milk-fed chicks represented a more uniform flock than those not so fed. It has been concluded that skim milk has the power to kill the organisms which cause many poultry diseases, the bacilli being destroyed by the dilute acid of the sour milk.

DURABLE COOP FOR CHICKENS

Illustration Gives Outline of Sanitary Pen for Confining Chicks—Simple in Construction.

This drawing shows the plan of chicken coop we designed and have been using the last ten years. The coops are made in the winter time when the men are not busy with other work. They are made of 12 and 6-inch soft pine boards. They are 23 inches long, 18 inches wide, 18 inches high in front and a foot high at the back. The roof extends over the side walls about 3 inches on all sides, writes Mrs. S. M. Pephart, in Farmers Mail and Breeze. The floors are hinged on as shown and the coops are painted inside and out. Wire screen is put in the ends as shown, to provide ventilation. The little side door permits chicks to come and go. The material in each coop costs about $1. We use the coops from year to year as they are cleaned out every fall and put away in the dry during the winter. I have never yet lost a chicken in these coops, either by drowning, smothering or through having some animal get in.

FILLERS FOR EGG CARRIERS

Shocks Incident to Shipping and Handling of Fragile Articles Will Not Cause Breakage.

Raise a few more pullets than you will want for layers, then you will have a chance to pick out the best and sell the culls. In this way you will improve the flock.

Instantaneous Death.

Manchester, Tenn., Aug. 26.—Joe Martin was almost instantly killed yesterday at his sawmill in Hubbard's Cove, near the Grundy county line, when he fell in front of the saw and his legs were severed close to the body. Mr. Martin had fallen on the carriage while operating the sawmill and was carried into the teeth of the saw. He was about 50 years old and was formerly a resident of this place. He had been in the sawmill business all his life.

Sunflower Crop Damaged.

Hickman, Ky., Aug. 27.—The sunflower crop, largely planted through out this section this year, is greatly damaged as well as the corn crops, due to the recent heavy rains and hard winds. The sunflowers were blown down to a great extent. The sunflower business was started here a few years ago and has yearly been increased, this being one of the most remunerative crops grown in this section.

LEIGH HARRIS

Narrowly Escapes Death From Drowning.

Leigh Harris, editor of the Henderson Journal, had a close call from death while visiting his brother at Peoria, Ill., last week. A local paper gives this account:

"Early in the evening President Harris of the Peoria birdmen invited his brother to ride in his big Benoist hydro-aeroplane. At first the Kentuckian looked askance at the machine and its owner gave a trial flight, beautifully navigating the craft up and down the river. Then the Kentucky editor screwed his courage to the sticking point and stepped on board.

The craft went away like a bird, with 100 horsepower driving its propeller. It skimmed the water then mounted gracefully until when over the upper lake and 125 feet in the air, a controlling wire broke. This wire controls the altitude rudder and in a second the flying boat was beyond control. Heel first it shot downward, diving where the water is 50 feet in depth.

Finds Brother Under Machine.

"I know every inch of the machine," President Harris said afterward. "I knew just what wires were holding me under water and I managed to wiggle out and rise to the surface. I looked for Leigh, but he hadn't risen, although he is a good swimmer. So I dived and found him caught under the machine. I got hold of him and pulled and got him free and we both came up. Then I dived again and got the life preservers.

People on shore and on the upper bridge saw the awful plunge. Driven by the powerful engine, running at full speed, the craft attained a fearful velocity and struck the water head first, turning a somersault.

Rescued by Clam Fisherman.

A clam fisherman in a motorboat was first to reach the hydroplane that was floating bottom up and only a couple of inches out of water, and rescued its crew, then towed the hydroplane to the levee, where the derrick of the Verne Swain was used to lift it from the water. The hydroplane was not seriously damaged.

Leigh Harris, with his family, was able to leave for Tremont on a later train."—Canton, (Ill.) Daily Register.

Colorado Heroine.

Stopping a runaway team of horses with a wagonload of dynamite and fuse caps hitched to them, on one of the principal business of Denver at noon Monday, was the heroic action of Mrs. Hubbell, who is employed by a firm buying horses for the British Government.

Mounted on horseback, Mrs. Hubbell raced beside the maddened team more than a block, finally seized the reins and brought the animals to a stop about 50 yards before they reached the tramway loop, where a large crowd was awaiting cars.

AT THE PEEP O' DAY

Robinson's Famous Show Trains Will Arrive Monday.

Older people are inclined to laugh at the small boy who arises at 4 a. m., on circus day and hies to the railroad yards to see the show unload. But if they only knew it, little Johnnie has the best of the game. He is able to see things that are really interesting, even thrilling.

Few people realize the wonderful system that enables a big organization like Robinson's Famous Shows to be moved from one city to another, get ready and give two performances in one day, and get out of town without friction or accident, leaving not even a tent stake of the endless paraphernalia as a reminder of their visit.

It is marvelous to watch the skillful unloading of the enormous wagons, dens and tableaux without a hitch or moment's delay; to see the big, handsome horses take their places like clockwork, to see the elephants push wagons in place, lift immense center poles and perform other duties where their measureless strength comes into play.

Older people might follow Little Johnnie's example with profit. Just try it once, on the morning of Monday, August 30, when Robinson's Famous Shows will arrive and give two performances in this city, at 2:00 and 8:00 p. m.

Had a Good Time.
